Services Offered and Clients Served:

I approach counseling from a Person-centered and Gestalt perspective in exploring the pattern of thoughts and actions to understand the client's problem better and develop solutions. I work with clients in various formats, including individually, family, and group. I see clients of all ages and backgrounds, except I do not work individually with children under ten.

Code of Conduct: As a Counselor, I am legally required to adhere to the Code of Conduct for practice adopted by my licensing board. A copy of this Code of Conduct is available to you upon request.

Confidentiality

Material revealed in counseling will remain strictly confidential except for material shared under the following circumstances by State law:

1. The client signs a written release of information indicating informed consent to such release.
2. The client expresses intent to harm him/herself or someone else.
3. There is reasonable suspicion of abuse/neglect against a minor child, elderly person (60 or older), or dependent adult.
4. A court order directing the disclosure of information has been received.

In marriage or family counseling, material is obtained from an adult client. Individually, it may be shared with the client's spouse or other family members with the client's written permission. Any material obtained from a minor client may be shared with the client's parent or guardian.

Privileged Communication:

My policy is to assert privileged communication on behalf of the client and the right to consult with the client, if at all possible, except during an emergency, before mandated disclosure. I will endeavor to apprise clients of all mandated disclosures as quickly as possible.

Additionally, I may consult with another counselor if I find myself having struggles with where to go with your case or if there is an ethical dilemma that arises. Please understand that your personal information will not be shared during consultation and that I will only talk about the struggle or ethical predicament without any identifying information.

During marriage, family, or group counseling, material obtained from an adult client individually may not be shared with the client's spouse or other family members unless the client gives written permission. Any material obtained from a minor client may be shared with the client's parent or guardian.

Litigation: It is not my practice to become involved in litigation. However, if I am subpoenaed or must appear in court, my fees are $500 for a half day and $1,000 for a full day. In addition, I charge $200 an hour for professional services, including travel time, phone and email consultations, letter compilation, records review, and communication with attorneys, law enforcement, FINS, parenting coordinators/evaluators, parents, professional consultation with colleagues/supervisors, and my attorney. Insurance cannot be billed for this time.

Emergency Situations: When the receptionist is unavailable to answer calls after regular office hours, you may leave a message on the answering machine. I will return your call as soon as possible. When an immediate response is necessary in an emergency, you may call the on-call phone (225)-978-2824 and speak with a counselor. You may also seek help through hospital emergency facilities or by calling 911.

Client Responsibilities:

I strive to make the counseling session a place where you feel safe. I see counseling as a collaborative process, meaning that you are a full partner in the process. Your honesty and effort are essential to our success. If, as we work together, you have suggestions or concerns about our sessions, I expect you to share those with me so that we can make necessary adjustments. If it develops that another mental health provider would better serve you, I will help you with the referral process. If you are seeing another mental health professional, please inform me so that, with your written permission, I may contact the other professional and develop a collaborative professional relationship.

Physical Health: Physical health can be an important factor in the emotional well-being of an individual. If you have not had a physical examination in the last year, it is recommended that you do so. Additionally, medications (both prescription and non-prescription) may have significant side effects that may impact the counseling relationship. I expect full disclosure from you regarding any medications that you are currently taking.

Potential Counseling Risk: You should be aware that counseling poses potential risks. While working together, additional problems may surface of which you were unaware. It is also important to realize that your relationships will be affected as you change. This is especially apparent in marriage and couples counseling.
